

Path to a Just Society

Work to prevent and heal trauma. Foster nurturing relationships, restorative processes, and positive experiences.

A self-actualized, equitable, beloved society in which all thrive, belong, and feel loved.

Recognize the impact of ACEs. Put ACEs science-informed practices and policies in place, following Substance Abuse and Mental Health Services Administration Trauma-Informed Principles.

Aware of the significance of Positive and Adverse Childhood Experiences (PACEs) and their interaction (e.g., PCEs act as buffers against ACEs).

Aware of historical, collective, and personal trauma and ACEs, but do not act on it.

Unaware of the impact of historical, collective, and personal trauma, ACEs. React to symptoms.

What can we do to create a world in which all feel safe, valued, and loved? We can learn about, prevent, and heal adverse childhood experiences (ACEs) and create more positive childhood experiences (PCEs) in our communities. We can start or join a positive and adverse childhood experiences (PACEs) initiative to accelerate change. Join us on the path to creating a just society.

Thank you to members of the PACEs Connection Race and Equity Workgroup for their vision and contributions.
